Dave Nelson & Mike Hegan Join Tom Hamilton On Indians Radio

Scott Audette/NS Images

Since the October retirement of the legendary Herb Score, the Cleveland Indians have promoted his partner for the last eight seasons, Tom Hamilton, to the position of primary play-by-play announcer in the radio booth.

Hamilton came to the Indians in 1990 after broadcasting for the New York Yankees' AAA Columbus Clippers. Before that, he handled announcing duties for the Universities of Wisconsin and Colorado. In addition to his current responsibilities with the Indians, Hamilton broadcasts Big Ten basketball on TV for ESPN.

Indians fans should recognize Hamilton's new colleagues, Dave Nelson and Mike Hegan. Nelson will provide color commentary and assist with pre- and post-game shows. Through a rotation format, Hegan will provide color analysis when teamed with Hamilton and play-by-play when teamed with Nelson.

Indians fans know Dave Nelson as the team's First Base Coach for the past six seasons. He previously filled the same role for the Chicago White Sox. Nelson's coaching career has also included Minor League infield and base running instruction for the White Sox and the duties of Director of Instruction for the A's. Tribe fans may not know that his baseball experience includes broadcasting work for both the Chicago Cubs and Kansas City Royals.

As a player, Nelson broke into the Majors with the Indians. During his career, he stole 187 bases. In 1972, he achieved his annual best — 51 thefts — placing him second behind league-leading Bert Campaneris. An AL All-Star in 1973, Nelson also tied a Major League record in 1974 — stealing second, third, and home in a single inning.

Hegan has covered Indians baseball for WUAB Channel 43, along with Jack Corrigan, for nine seasons. He will continue in this role, and step into the radio booth during those games which WUAB does not televise.

Hegan came to Indians broadcasting after handling similar duties for the Milwaukee Brewers. Before that, he played in the Major Leagues (1964-77) for the Yankees, Seattle Pilots, Brewers, and Oakland A's. A 1969 All-Star, he also played for the 1972 World Champion A's. Hegan is a Cleveland native, son of former Indians catcher, Jim Hegan, and a graduate of St. Ignatius.

CLEVELAND INDIANS CHARITIES DONATE NEARLY $330,000 TO YOUTH IN 1997

Cleveland Indians Charities (CIC), the charitable arm of the 1995 and 1997 American League Champion Cleveland Indians, entered its 10th year of operation by donating nearly $330,000 to area youth organizations from monies raised in 1997. Since 1989, Cleveland Indians Charities has donated almost $2 million dollars to area agencies which promote youth recreation and education.

The major contributions in 1997 included a $100,000 donation to the Cleveland Public Schools Athletic Department to help defray the high costs of its boys' baseball and girls' softball programs for the coming spring. Additional 1997 recipients include The Boys & Girls Clubs of Cleveland ($50,000), the Cleveland

Recreation Department ($25,000), the United Black Fund ($40,000) for their operation of the Larry Doby RBI (Reviving Baseball in Inner Cities) Program, the Cleveland Baseball Federation ($10,000), the North American Indian Cultural Center

($6,000) for their efforts in helping educate Native American youth in their culture, and the Urban League of Greater Cleveland ($5,500) for support of its educational programs.

Through the generosity of the Indians corporate partners and various fund raising efforts, including Jacobs Field Tours, the MTD Celebrity Golf Classic, Pepsi Corporate Hitting Challenge, CIC SuperBowl Party, the sale of Jacobs Field streetpole banners, and numerous concourse activities at Jacobs Field, to name a few, Cleveland Indians Charities has been able to develop and enhance a number of youth educational and recreational programs in Northeast Ohio.

If you would like information on any of the programs offered through Cleveland Indians Charities, please call the Community Relations Information Line at (216) 420-4400.

THE HOT CORNER

Registration for the 1998 Pepsi Corporate Hitting Challenge has begun for the annual spring tournament held at Jacobs Field.

Teams of nine will have the opportunity to have pregame batting practice in the hitting tunnels, followed by a single-elimination hitting competition on the field. The tournament winner will then play the Indians front office team in a nine-inning game at Jacobs Field. The cost of the Pepsi Corporate Hitting Challenge is $3,000 for a team of nine... The inaugural Cleveland Indians Charities SuperBowl Party, held at Shula's Steak 2 in Independence, kicked off the 1998 year by raising over $20,000 for CIC. Skipper Mike Hargrove and Indians players Jim Thome, Chad Ogea, Brian Giles, and Steve Karsay were in attendance, and guests received a commemorative football auto-graphed by Indians players... Various Streetpole Banners from the 1995, 1996, and 1997 seasons are available through Cleveland Indians Charities. These streetpole banners are the very same ones that have decorated the streets of Cleveland and surrounded Jacobs Field over the past few championship
